J

Wayland, Sep. 27, 1860.

Dear Friend Garrison,

123 Since I returned home, I have thought a good deal of what Mr. Stevenson said. I think he is in the right. You had better go with him, and be where you can dispense with exertion of body & care of mind. If I can help in taking care of the Liberator, in your absence, I will do it most cheerfully. Mr. Child also says, he would do anything to help, either in the care of the paper, or the office, and esteem it a privilege, if it would be any relief to you.

You had better attend to your health in season. Dont sit in stuffed chairs. I believe the back is much weakened by the warmth of modern furniture.

Please tell Mr. Baily of the "Free South," that I think Dr. Beck of Cambridge might give something to his paper, if asked.

I want to see beforehand any extracts that are to be added to my Tract on Fugitive Slave Act.

With love to Mrs Garrison and your dear daughter,

I am most truly and cordially your friend,

L. M. Child.